GEORGE-STREET NORTH, OPPOSITE BRIDGE-STREET.
TEETH.

MR. J. EMANUEL, Surgical and Mechanical Dentist, continues to supply Artificial Teeth, from one to a complete set, arranged on the most modern and scientific principles, without extracting the roots, restoring perfect articulation and mastication. Charges strictly moderate, so as to meet the views of the most economical.

Mr. Emanuel wishes particularly to notice to the public that they may with perfect confidence place themselves under his care in any operation incidental to his profession,—Mr. E. being regularly qualified, having received his diploma as Surgeon-Dentist from the Medical Board of Holland, in the year 1836, which may be seen at his residence daily. All consultations free. Sets of teeth by self-adhesion, without springs or clasps. Scurvy in the gums cured. Loose teeth fastened. Artificial palates on a new principle. Malformation of children's mouths eradicated, in cases where the permanent or second teeth project too forward or backward, without drawing the teeth. Mr. Emanuel's Cement for stopping decayed teeth, however tender—without pain; the tooth warranted to keep the same colour. Those persons who have had their teeth stopped with any but the cement of Mr. E. will find that the tooth becomes black, and the adjacent ones also. Mr. Emanuel's specimen of artificial teeth having been much admired by several gentlemen of the Faculty, he will be most happy to show any lady or gentleman his plan of fixing them.

IMPORTANT TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.

JOHN ASPINALL'S (late Robinson's) Hair Cutting Saloon, the oldest established house in business in the colony, and the greatest attention paid to cleanliness in regard to hair brushes, combs, &c., so much neglected by some other houses in the business, No. 425, George-street, five doors south of King-street, opposite Mr. Woolley's. J. A. begs leave to return his sincere thanks to his numerous customers who have supported him since he purchased the good-will, stock, &c. of this establishment three years ago, and to assure them that nothing shall be wanting on his part to deserve a continuance of their favours.

For the Ball to be given in honour of Her Majesty's Birth-day, J. A. has ready for inspection a large assortment of Ringlets of all lengths and colours; also a large assortment of Perfumes, suitable for the Ball Room, viz., Verbena, Rondeletia, Coronation, Bouquet, Prince Albert and Princess Royal Bouquets, Essence of Hovenia, Lavender Water, and a great variety of other perfumes, too numerous for the limits of an advertisement.

J. A. also manufactures wigs, fronts, &c. with the patent pastings, which so nearly imitate nature as scarcely to be distinguished from the skin of the head, this being the only establishment in the colony where it is thoroughly understood.

The Proprietor trusts in consequence of his reduced charges, that he will continue to meet with that support he has so long enjoyed, and in consequence of the continued depression of the times, J. A. has reduced his charge for HAIR CUTTING to SIXPENCE. 6591

A LA VILLE DE PARIS,
369, PITT-STREET.

MESSRS. PILLET, MESNIER, AND CO. return their sincere thanks to the gentry and inhabitants of Sydney and its vicinity, for the liberal patronage they have received since their commencement in business, and pledge themselves to a continuance of their exertions to please customers and give general satisfaction.

They have much pleasure in announcing to those who have not yet visited their

SHOW ROOM,

And to their friends generally, that they have now ready for inspection the new fashions for Winter Millinery, just received direct from Paris, and feel confident in asserting that nothing can be compared to the style and richness in which any orders will be executed by Madame Mesnier.

Messrs. P., M., and Co. invite particular attention to their assortment of goods suitable for Balls, more particularly plain and embroidered dresses, very rich, in silk, satin, and muslin; scarfs; embroidered real French cambric handkerchiefs, long white kid gloves, fancy head-dresses, silver and gold lace fringe, tassels, and flowers, white satin shoes, and open-worked silk stockings, &c.

To those who value a genuine article, their stock of goods offers decided advantages.

TO COUNTRY SETTLERS.

THE Undersigned will be happy to exchange any goods he has on hand with Settlers for country produce, or sell on commission their produce of any description; he can accommodate them with store-room. For particulars apply at the City Depôt,

SAUSAGES! SAUSAGES!! SAUSAGES!!!

There was Epps's great name,
In the annals of fame,
For sausages his were beyond par;
But that name must give way,
Here in Botany Bay,
As Kosten can beat him, Sirs, by far.

F. KOSTEN begs respectfully to apprise his former customers, who honoured him by their patronage some three years back, that he has again commenced business, in Pitt-street, six doors north of Market street, where pork, beef, mutton, veal, &c., of the very best quality the country can produce, will be always on hand, at the lowest possible prices.

F. K. also takes the opportunity of assuring his friends and the public, that as his sausages were always superior to any other manufactured in the country, so they shall continue to be.

His long connexion with Epps, Müll, and the leading houses in the trade in London, together with those of Germany, enables him to recommend with confidence every article manufactured by himself.

Pork, beef, German, and all descriptions of sausages, always ready, or immediately made to order.

P.S.—Wanted, for Kosten's establishment, a man and a boy. 6484

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL TEA AND GENERAL GROCERY WAREHOUSE,

Commissariat Office,
Sydney, 15th May, 1844.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Tenders will be received at this Office until Friday, the 31st instant, at noon, from persons willing to contract to perform such works and repairs as may be required by the Royal Engineer Department to the various public buildings, at the stations of—

Sydney,
Newcastle,
Parramatta,
Liverpool,
Windsor, and Bathurst.

The description of work required is that of—

Carpenters,
Masons,
Bricklayers,
Slaters,
Plasterers,
Smiths,
Plumbers,
Painters, and Glaziers.

A separate contract being already entered into for the mason's work of the New Military Barracks, South Head Road, that item only will be excepted from the contract to be made for Sydney.

Tenders will also be received as above for supplying the Royal Engineer Department with such articles of ironmongery, ironfoundry, and ship chandlery ware as may be required.

The contracts are to commence on the 1st day of July next, and to remain in force for a period of three years, but either party will after the first nine months have it in his power at any time, should he desire it, to give to the opposite party a previous notice of three months of his intention to terminate the contract, and to discontinue it at the expiration of that period.

Further particulars may be learned on application at the Royal Engineer Office, Sydney.

The Hindoo was to leave Liverpool for Sydney, early in February, with merchandise; to be followed on the 28th February, by the Briton, with emigrants. The Hindoo was at Deal, to sail for Sydney positively on the 20th January. The Jane and Elizabeth had been taken off the berth in London, and was laid on for Port Phillip.

The Caroline saw the Bermondsey of London, in July last, on the coast of Japan, with 500 barrels sperm oil on board. Also saw the brig Brigand at the Island of Anata, where they had formed a settlement.

The Johnstone did not speak anything on the passage.

Mails for Sydney, New South Wales.—The Postmaster-General has issued the following new regulations with respect to the transmission of the mails to New South Wales in future:—"A contract having been entered into by her Majesty's Government for the conveyance of mails (monthly) from the United Kingdom to Sydney, a mail will in future be made up at this office on the evening of the last day of each month, and all letters and newspapers addressed to the colony of New South Wales will be included in such mail, unless specially marked 'By private ship.' The rate of postage to be charged on all letters for New South Wales, not marked 'by private ship,' will be 1s. for a letter not exceeding half an ounce, 2s. for a letter not exceeding an ounce, and so on, which must be paid in advance. British newspapers duly stamped, and posted in conformity with the regulations required by this department, may be forwarded to New South Wales by these packets free of postage. Such newspapers as are forwarded by private ship will be liable to a postage of 1d. as at present."

ENGLISH NEWS.

We received, via Hobart Town, yesterday, English newspapers to the 27th January.

The State Trials still continued, and were likely to continue, as the Crown appeared to be giving evidence of all the acts of O'Connell and the other conspirators for the past twelve months. As witnesses were examined as to the speeches made at the various meetings, the reports are almost like reprints of old newspapers.

A very strong sensation had been excited by the Crown lawyers having struck out of the Jury list the names of all the Roman Catholics. Meetings were held in above four hundred chapels, and an aggregate meeting in Dublin, in which this course was denounced as a "wrong and an insult" to the Roman Catholics.

By a majority of thirty-five to seven, the Corporation of Dublin had agreed to an Address to the Queen, praying that the prosecution of O'Connell might be suspended until the wrongs of Ireland had been enquired into.

Among the deaths we notice those of Sir C. E. Nugent, the oldest admiral, General Sir Hudson Lowe, the Dowager Countess of Clare, and Mr. Hobler, for fifty-four years Mansion-house Clerk.

Sir Maurice O'Connell was gazetted Colonel of the 80th regiment on the 15th January.

It was understood that Sir H. Pottinger had resigned the government of Hong-kong, and was to be succeeded by Mr. Davis, formerly Superintendent of British Trade in China.

Dr. Alexander Nesbitt (formerly Assistant Commissioner to the Australian Agricultural Company) had been appointed Deputy Inspector-General of Greenwich Hospital, and Dr. M'Tegnan, an old visitor to this colony, Assistant-Surgeon of that establishment.

Cards had been issued for the usual Parliamentary dinners, on the 31st January, and Sir Robert Peel had sent a circular to the conservative members, urging their attendance on the 1st February, as important business would come on.

Trade, we are glad to say, continued brisk. The accounts respecting wool are still encouraging.

Despatches from the Governor of New South Wales were received in Downing-street on the 21st January.

In order to make room for some of the more important extracts, we have been compelled to omit a quantity of other matter.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.—Civil Side.

Friday.

Before His Honor Mr. Justice Burton, and Dr. Mitchell and R. How, Esq., Assessors.

BOOTH v. STONE.

This was an action brought to recover the sum of £19 1s., for goods sold and delivered, and for money had and received, to which the defendant had pleaded, first, that he was never indebted, and secondly, that an agreement had been entered into between him and the plaintiff for the purchase by the latter of the defendant's interest in the Dove Inn, Liverpool Road, for which £100 was to be given in two several instalments, but which agreement the plaintiff had altogether failed to comply with. The plaintiff, in reply to this, had stated, that although he had made the contract alluded to, and had frequently requested the defendant to perform his part of it, the latter had wholly neglected to do so.

Mr. Foster appeared for the plaintiff, and called a witness named Sadler, formerly a servant to the defendant, who had witnessed the agreement between the parties, but being only a marksman could not swear positively to the identity of the documents produced, although he stated that he had little or no doubt on the matter. He also proved an admission on the part of the defendant of money and goods to the amount of £19 odd having been received on account of the contemplated purchase, and that upon the occasion of Booth demanding a transfer of the lease, the defendant said that he had no lease, although he asserted that he had something else as good.

The agreement was then put in and read, and appeared to be an agreement for the transfer of the lease and good will of the public-house in question upon the terms already stated.

Other witnesses were then called to prove that the defendant had admitted the value claimed to be the correct one, but had wholly refused payment.

Mr. Windeyer appeared for the defence, and contended that no sum could be recovered for goods sold and delivered, unless a special bargain for the price and value of such goods was proved, which had not been the case in the present instance. He admitted, indeed, that any cash which had been paid on account of the agreement was recoverable, provided the breach could be shown to have arisen on the part of the defendant, but he was instructed (he said) that it was Booth himself who had departed from the contract.

Mr. J. S. Ranson, the proprietor of the inn in question, was then called, who proved that he had agreed to accept Booth as tenant of the inn, provided the arrangement between him and Stone was carried out. Stone held the inn upon an agreement for lease for five or seven years, and witness offered to let Booth have the premises for the same period, or any other term he might desire.

Another witness, named Punchard, was called but did not answer.

Mr. Foster then replied, contending that the goods having been agreed to be taken as money, the plaintiff was entitled to recover for them in that character.

His Honor told the Assessors that the first question for their determination was, what the nature of the bargain really was? and having determined upon this point, they would next have to consider whether the defendant was ever in a position to fulfil his contract; although the term lease had been used by both parties, still the agreement might be looked upon in that light, if the parties were believed by the Assessors to have perfectly understood what they were contracting for. If the defendant had been in a position to fulfil his agreement, and had been ready to do so, the plaintiff was not entitled to recover, but if the breach was really on the part of the defendant, the plaintiff was undoubtedly entitled to have his money returned. A question was created as to whether the plaintiff was entitled to recover the value of the goods as so much money had on account, or whether he was merely entitled to recover for the actual cash, but in the event of the Assessors determining for the plaintiff, he should advise them to find for the full amount, reserving liberty to the defendant to move for a reduction of the verdict if the full Court should be of opinion that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover in the present action for goods sold and delivered.

The Assessors found a verdict for £19 1s., with the reservation above recommended.

GANNON v. MOUTEN.

This was an action brought to recover damages for an alleged malicious prosecution for perjury, to which the defendant had pleaded that he was not guilty of the charges contained in the declaration. The damages were laid at £500, but were reduced by consent to £450, in order to avoid the necessity of having the depositions taken down in writing.

Messrs. Foster and Fisher appeared for the plaintiff, and after a brief statement by the former of the circumstances of the case, proceeded to call

William Thomas Cowper, Deposition Clerk at the Sydney Police Office, who produced the deposition of the defendant, and other papers relative to the charge preferred by the latter against the plaintiff. The parties attended at the Police Office on the 26th of March, when the case was heard and dismissed by Mr. Windeyer, the presiding magistrate.

A question arose as to whether the plaintiff's counsel was bound to put in the whole of the depositions taken on the examination, or merely that of the defendant, when his Honor expressed his opinion that they were only bound to put in the latter.

The witness then proved the cheque appended to the depositions to be the one which was referred to by the defendant, in his deposition before the Police Bench.

Mr. Charles Windeyer, Police Magistrate: Remembered hearing and dismissing the case; did not quite recollect whether Gannon was called upon to produce any evidence in his own defence, but his impression was, that no such evidence had been called for.

The papers were then read, from which it appeared that the charge preferred against the present plaintiff and the then defendant, Gannon, was, having sworn falsely in his examination, as an insolvent, before the Chief Commissioner, that he had never received a cheque of Mr. O'Reilly's for £20 10s. from Mouten, together with £3 10s. in cash, for the purpose of paying the same to his brother, Mr. Michael Gannon; of his having also committed perjury, by stating that he never owed Mr. Mouten one half-penny, and had never rendered him any account; and of his having sworn equally falsely that he had never been Mr. Mouten's tenant, or knew who was the owner of the house he occupied, as alluded to in the deposition. The evidence at the Police Office however was directed principally to the matter of the cheque.

Mr. Windeyer, on the part of the defendant, contended, that the whole of the depositions must be read. The case was said to be without foundation, and to show this the plaintiff was bound to show what the whole of that case really was, instead of selecting a portion of the evidence merely. It was possible that the defendant might have been misled by the statements of others, and it was unfair to him therefore to suppress any portion of the testimony.

Mr. Foster contended, that the only thing which he was bound to show, was, the proceedings of the defendant himself, and that in order to shew the fact of the defendant having been mislead, his learned friend was bound to call as witnesses the persons who could prove that fact.

His Honor decided that the only evidence necessary to be put in by the plaintiff was the deposition of the defendant himself, the proper way to prove his having been mislead being, as Mr. Foster had said, to call witnesses.

John Blackman, clerk at the Union Bank, was then called, and proved the cheque produced to have been the one exhibited at the Police Office. According to the practice of the Bank, the party receiving the contents of the cheque was required to endorse it, and the value of the present cheque appeared to have been received by a Mr. George Kerridge, whose endorsement it bore.

Samuel Penn: Knew the plaintiff and defendant, the former of whom was a publican, and the latter an independent man, living on his property. Was aware of a dispute between them two or three years ago, about some money in notes which Mouten said he had given Gannon to hand over to his brother. Mouten said that the sum he had given Gannon was partly composed of a sum which the latter was about to pay him, but which he returned, with other notes, for payment to his (Gannon's) brother. Did not know whether the cheque produced had ever been his (witness's) property, but he had sold a house to Mouten about the same time the cheque bore date, and had received cheques and money from him, to the amount of £575, as the purchase money of such house. This might be one of those cheques, but he was uncertain upon that point. Witness had employed Kerridge to pay money for him at different times. Had often heard Mouten charge Gannon with having robbed him of this money, even in public company.

By Mr. Windeyer: Gannon was the tenant of the house that Mouten bought of witness. Did not exactly recollect the sum that Mouten named, but believed it was over £20; was sure he said it was in notes. Gannon was only a weekly tenant, but did not reside in the house himself at the time of the sale, having underlet it to another party; could not say whether Gannon had continued as the tenant of Mouten.

George William Kerridge: Had received the amount of the cheque produced at the bank; believed he had received the cheque from Mr. Penn, for the purpose of obtaining cash for it, in order to pay some debts on his account; was quite sure he did not receive the cheque from Gannon, having never had a money transaction with the latter in his life.

By Mr. Windeyer: Could swear that he had never obtained a cheque from Michael Gannon, the plaintiff's brother; could swear he did not find the cheque, or that it had been given to him by any person other than Mr. Penn. The special endorsement "Pay Mr. Kerridge," &c., was in witness's handwriting, but he could not then say for what reason he had written it.

Samuel Penn was re-called by His Honor, and stated, that he had no transactions with Gannon at the time in question; except the renting of the house, Gannon had never owed him any sum bordering on £20.

This closed the case for the plaintiff.

Mr. Windeyer submitted that the plaintiff must be nonsuited, on the ground that he had failed to make out the declaration, the charge having been made without any reasonable or probable cause.

His Honor, without calling on the other side to reply, decided that a prima facie case had been made out to go to the Assessors.

Mr. Windeyer then addressed the Court and Assessors for the defence, and stated, that the existence, which he should prove, of a reasonable and probable cause for the course adopted by the defendant was sufficient to justify a verdict in his favour. He should be able to tender evidence which would convince the Assessors that a great portion of Mr. Gannon's statement on his examination, was at least erroneous, particularly with reference to the declarations, that he had never been the tenant of Mr. Mouten, nor had ever rendered the latter any account. With reference to the last point, he should prove that a regular debtor and creditor account had been tendered from Mr. Gannon to Mr. Mouten, in which certain charges were made that the former was fully entitled to make, particularly for coach hire, and for a play ticket, which latter entry he doubted not he should be able to show was in Mr. Gannon's own handwriting. He contended, therefore, that under all these circumstances the total absence of any real malice, and the existence of a sufficient probable cause for the prosecution commenced by the defendant, would be made out sufficiently strong to meet the present action. He then called

J. R. Hunt, Clerk to the Chief Commissioner of Insolvent Estates, who was about to prove the deposition of Mr. Gannon, as taken before the Insolvent Court, when the other side admitted the correctness of the statement relative to it in the information filed by the defendant.

William Toogood: Knew the defendant, and remembered Mr. Gannon hiring a vehicle on his (defendant's) account about two years and a half or three years ago. Gannon himself drove the carriage, and was entitled therefore to charge for its hire; had seen the account produced before; defendant was then living with witness, and the account was given to witness for the defendant; believed the account was given him by a boy, but had no distinct recollection upon the subject, remembered Mouten purchasing a house of Mr. Penn, and after the purchase had been present when Gannon was making arrangements with Mouten as to his future tenancy; on one occasion the house was put up for sale at Mr. Stubbs's, when Gannon publicly declared in the sale room that he held a lease from Penn, which Mouten's purchase could not affect; Gannon certainly knew that Mouten had purchased the house; witness's impression was that the account was given to him by Mr. Gannon's boy, but he was not certain.

Henry Flanagan identified the account produce as being in his handwriting, with the exception of the last item, but did not know whether this latter was or was not in the handwriting of Mr. Gannon; although he believed not; had no recollection of making out the account, but if he did so, it must have been at Gannon's request.

Bernard Macdermott, clerk to Mr. Gowland, was called, but his evidence was not allowed to be taken, on account of his having been in Court during the previous part of the trial.

John Lee stated that he was a performer at the Victoria Theatre in 1842, and a short time previous to his benefit in that year, he went to Gannon's with the view of disposing to the latter of some tickets for his benefit; Mouten was there, and agreed to take a ticket at Gannon's request, but did not; witness was afterwards paid for this and other tickets by Gannon.

The deposition of Kerridge at the Police Office, together with the account and cheque, were then put in, and the defendant's case was closed.

Mr. Foster addressed the Assessors at some length in reply, contending that no rebutting case whatever had been made out: for even taking the matter upon the broadest ground, and supposing that a real foundation existed for the charges relative to the account, and the denial of tenancy, still that part of the charge which had reference to the cheque must be taken to be wholly unfounded, and was of itself sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to a verdict. The account, however, might have been made out by some member of Mr. Gannon's family without his knowledge; and no proof whatever had been adduced of his being personally cognisant of it.

His Honor told the Assessors, that if any portion of the charge of perjury preferred against the plaintiff by the defendant was false, malicious, and without any reasonable or probable cause, the former would be entitled to a verdict, even although the remainder of the accusations were based upon fact. Such a state of things, however, although they would not deprive the plaintiff of his right to their verdict, might fairly be taken as a proper cause for materially reducing the amount of damages to be awarded. That part of the charge concerning the cheque appeared to be, indeed, the substantial one throughout the whole matter; and it was for the Assessors to determine whether the defendant was or was not justified in pressing it. In order to find for the plaintiff, however, they must be convinced, first, that the charge of perjury was a false one; secondly, that the defendant knew it to be false, or in other words that he had no reasonable or probable cause for preferring the accusation; and thirdly, that he had instituted the proceedings maliciously; although the very fact of prosecuting without a reasonable and probable cause would, if the Assessors were convinced on that point, be in itself evidence of malice. His Honor then recapitulated and commented upon the evidence which had been tendered, leaving the Assessors to form their conclusions upon the whole circumstances as to whether the prosecution was of the nature alleged in the declaration, and if so, what amount of damages the plaintiff was entitled to recover.

The Assessors found a verdict for the defendant.

The Court adjourned till ten o'clock on Monday morning.

The Equity and Vice Admiralty Courts were opened for a few minutes yesterday; in the former only two unopposed motions for decrees of foreclosure were made and granted in the terms prayed for. After which both Courts were adjourned till Tuesday next at ten o'clock.

DOMESTIC INTELLIGENCE.

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS.

Friday.

Before the Chief Commissioner.

PROOF OF CLAIMS.

In the estate of William Willmington, a single meeting.

In the estate of George Smythe, a special meeting.

There was but one claim each proved against of the above estates.

APPLICATIONS FOR CERTIFICATES OF DISCHARGE.

The following decision was pronounced by the Chief Commissioner:—

IN THE MATTER OF GEORGIANA KINNEAR.

In this case it appears the insolvent commenced business at Port Macquarie in 1839, with a capital as she states of £300, which twelve months after was increased by £1500, from a sale to Dr. Fattorini of her interest in certain lands which were given to her by J. T. Hughes; this £1500, however, was paid in Fattorini's promissory notes, which were immediately put in circulation by the insolvent. It appears that her business was entirely carried on by her husband, a prisoner of the Crown at Port Macquarie; that her credit and business was based entirely upon Fattorini's promissory notes; there is no means of showing by her books that she ever had the £300 capital she stated herself to have had at the commencement. In my opinion Fattorini's promissory notes were accommodation notes, although it is attempted to be shown, that they were given for value. There appears to have been a regular system of what is called kite-flying between these two parties. Whenever a person was found on whom the notes could be passed, a sale was got up from Fattorini to Kinnear, or from Kinnear to Fattorini, and the persons who took their notes were unfortunately victimized, hence it is difficult to say which is indebted to the other, or to whom the property said to be bought by these promissory notes belongs. Fattorini's notes to the amount of nearly £4000 appear to have been indorsed and paid away by the insolvent. Her schedule contained an erroneous statement, which is calculated to deceive and mislead, inasmuch as she only admits owing £2425, and upwards of £4400 is proved against her. She must have known that Fattorini's notes were overdue, and would never be paid; she states the deficiency on her estate was only £104, whereas it appears that her debts amounted to £4490, and no assets at all have been realized; the furniture of the hotel was the only available asset, and that the insolvent has made away with. I must, therefore, withhold the certificate of the insolvent, on the ground that she has not kept reasonable accounts of her receipts and payments, so as to enable her creditors to discover how she has been acting; she has produced no cash-book, or journal, or bank pass-book; also on the ground that the disposal of the furniture of the inn at Port Macquarie was such a disposal as is prohibited by the 73rd section of the original act. The certificate was accordingly withheld.

After the decision had been pronounced, Mr. H. O'Ayrane addressed the Chief Commissioner at considerable length, in order to induce him to commit the insolvent to take her trial for fraudulent insolvency, on the same grounds on which the certificate had been withheld.

The Chief Commissioner refused this application, because, although in his opinion the Act had a retrospective application in regard to granting or withholding the certificate, yet he did not see that it could be so read as to enable him to commit insolvents for acts done by them prior to the said act coming into operation.

The following applications were opposed but granted:—John Baptist Verdan, Ousley Condell, and Michael Gaynor. The following being unopposed were also granted:—George Scott, John Cameron, Moss Marks, Hugh R. Craddock, Sarah Lowe, Stillingfleet Lockyer, Gilbert M'Arthur, Joseph Jones, Peter Egan, John Thompson, Christopher Lawson, John Lumley, John George Lynch, Henry Vaughan, and John Garrett. The following being opposed, were adjourned:—Daniel Hatfield, John Ross, Edward Youngman, and Patrick Hickey; John Holden did not answer. The following were postponed on the understanding that they are opposed, viz.:—Richard Martin, Humphrey Thorn, James Waller, Herman Bryce, Edward Adams, B. A. Phillips, Vernon Puzey, and Edward Bartlett.

IN THE MATTER OF JOHN BOSTRON.

The examination commenced on a previous day, was resumed and continued for a short time, after which the Chief Commissioner refused the certificate—1st. Because the insolvent had not kept reasonable accounts, inasmuch as it appeared from his books, that he there took credit for £1,500 in the Union Bank of Australia, which he never had been possessed of. It was no excuse which he had set up, that it had been entered in order to prevent his clerk from prying into his affairs. If it had been given in evidence that the insolvent had ever obtained credit by such a statement being in his books, he would have felt bound himself to have sent the case to the Police Office. Another ground on which the certificate was now refused, was, that the insolvent had given an undue preference by remitting £600 to his brother in England, in liquidation of his claims, in preference to those of the other creditors.

IN THE MATTER OF JOHN ROBY HATFIELD.

The evidence of this case, extending over several sittings, had been closed at the preceding one. Mr. Rogers, of the firm of Carr, Rogers, and Owen, with Mr. Parry Long, now addressed the Chief Commissioner in opposition to the application, and in support of the reasons previously assigned why the certificate should not be granted: Mr. John Ryan Brenan at great length in support of the application.

The Chief Commissioner refused the certificate on all the grounds stated, viz., that the insolvent had not made a full and fair disclosure of the state of his affairs; that he had not kept reasonable accounts from which his creditors could gather how he had acted, and that he had given an undue preference to some of his creditors.

Messrs. Rogers and Long made an application to have the insolvent committed for fraudulent insolvency, which was refused for the same reasons as were stated in reply to a similar application for the committal of Georgiana Kinnear, stated above. The Chief Commissioner added, that he would take the first opportunity which presented itself of bringing the state of the law under the notice of their Honors the Judges, which Messrs. Rogers and Long would give him an opportunity of doing, by appealing against his present refusal. The sittings adjourned at half-past five, till next Thursday at noon.

Erratum.—In the list of certificates granted and confirmed by the Supreme Court on Wednesday last, and published in Thursday's Herald, for Robert Adnum read Robert Anderson.

MEETINGS FOR TO-DAY.

William Tuckwell, a single meeting, at ten o'clock.

James Doyle, a single meeting, at half-past ten.

John Manning, a single meeting, at eleven.

Charles Luke Bayley, a single meeting, at half-past eleven.

John Dow, an adjourned second meeting, at one.

MEETINGS FOR MONDAY.

Hughes and Hosking, a special meeting, at ten o'clock.

Wm. Patey Peck, a single meeting, at eleven.

James Newlands, a special meeting, at half-past eleven.

John Jones, at Bathurst, a second meeting, at ten.

COURT OF REQUESTS.

(£10 to £30 Jurisdiction.)

This Court resumed its sittings at ten yesterday morning.

The Court was composed of the Commissioner, and Assessors T. W. Smart and J. Coyle, in the early portion of the day, and H. H. Browne, instead of T. W. Smart, in the latter part of the day.

The list was proceeded with as far as No. 214, without anything interesting arising. This No. 214, was Brownlow v. Pollard, and occupied nearly four hours; the verdict was for the defendant.

This was a very important case, but want of space prevents our giving our report this day.

The Court will resume at ten o'clock this morning.

COMMERCIAL.—WOOL.

We have the pleasure of announcing that up to our latest dates the price of wool continued firm, and that at the London sales to commence on the 1st February there was a prospect of a rise. We give below a circular containing remarks upon the wool trade generally for the past year. Sperm oil was quoted at £75 5s.; black oil at £35 5s. The tallow market was dull; some New South Wales had been sold at 37s. 3d. to 40s. 3d. per cwt.

Atherton's Buildings,
Liverpool, 1st January, 1844.

Gentlemen,—We are glad to be enabled to give quite as satisfactory a report of the state and prospects of the Wool Trade as we anticipated in our last Annual Circular. For the first six months of the year the main features of the woollen, worsted, and wool trades continued unaltered, and characterized by extreme caution in the purchase of all the raw materials used in the manufacture and production of goods limited, except to order.

The prospect of a good harvest, and the effects of cheapness and plenty upon the home trade, which were happily realized, gave a decided impetus to trade, in August and September, and the improvement in both demand and prices of wool which then took place, has since been maintained, and in some descriptions still further advanced, whilst stocks have run down to a very low ebb, and a large business, conducted with entire absence of anticipation or speculation, has marked the year of cheap provisions and steady employment for labour.

As we foresaw, we find that there is a considerable falling off in the imports of wool at this Port, the apparent equality with last year's being constituted of ballots of Alpaca or Peruvian wool, of 80 @ 100 lbs. weight. The causes of this deficit we fear are not easily to be surmounted, and we apprehend that nothing but higher prices, and the abolition of the absurd and injurious wool duty, will bring up imports to their former extent. We refer particularly to Peruvian, Buenos Ayres, and all the low Mediterranean wools, washed and in the grease. A duty of ½d. ℔ lb. upon an article value here only 2½d. to 6d. ℔ lb., added to the prime cost, expenses of transit, and landing charges, must be a prohibition to their regular import, during the continuance of low prices here; the duty driving the British importer out of competition with the Americans and French, who are now the two largest purchasers in Buenos Ayres, and forcing return cargos of low-priced wools into continental ports where this enormous tax is avoided, besides somewhat higher prices realized.

The suicidal short-sightedness of this barbarous impost is every year becoming more apparent. When it has dwindled to non-productiveness to the Exchequer, by excluding all low Foreign wools, it may possibly be abandoned by Government.

Australian wools being uniformly offered by public auction always meet ready sale, and these wools being in esteem with manufacturers, have commanded a steady advance in value during the year—prices, which had receded, being now fully equal to our quotations twelve months ago.

East India wools are in great favour with consumers, and have sold with great spirit throughout the year, our quotations showing an advance of 1½d. upon all the better qualities, since January last.

Alpaca and Peruvian wools continue to be so promiscuously entered at the Customs, that accuracy cannot be arrived at in estimating the imports of each. Taking the arrivals of Alpaca at 35,000 qrs., (8750 cwt.,) this will show a large deficit of sheep's wool compared with previous years' imports, the combined result of unremunerative prices, and the operation of the wool duty. The demand for Alpaca for export, to a large extent, this season deserves notice, as marking the inroads of foreign competition, on the English manufacturer, in a branch which he has had almost exclusively to himself, and again demonstrating the impolicy of levying 1d. ℔ lb. import tax upon him, from which the foreign buyer is exempt. The effect of this new and large demand has been to raise the price of Alpaca to nearly the highest rates ever obtained for it. Portugal and Spanish wools must also be added to the list of diminished imports. The bulk of this class has been coarse Lisbon wool, this season, prices of Merino wools ruling too high for this market, and being chiefly purchased on French account, we believe.

We cannot foresee causes for any material variation from the present course and rates of business in the wool, worsted, and woollen trades for some months to come, which would be dangerous and undesirable on many grounds. In the present low state of stocks of wool, with the steady drain of consumption upon them, the tendency of prices will be upwards, till the supply be better adjusted to the demand, or other causes affect general business, among which next harvest is one of the most influential, for good or for evil. As the two last plentiful harvests were the germ and cause of the present improved state of trade, so upon the next, under existing laws, its continuance depends. That a large business is doing, on improved terms, is admitted; still there is a cautiousness,—amounting almost to mistrust, of the permanency of the present improvement,—generally prevailing: purchases continue to be made, as it were, "from hand to mouth;" engagements are contracted to much narrower compass than formerly; and the whole attitude of business is defensive, and indicates doubt and want of confidence in the sources of demand and employment. There is not that activity and vigorous prosecution of business,—that confidence and consciousness of the stability and soundness of our great manufacturing and commercial interests,—that full occupation of machinery and labour, which used to mark "good times," and which are the characteristics of a healthy and profitable trade, such as the capital, ingenuity, and industry of the manufacturing districts are equal to sustain, were their limbs unfettered, and free scope given to their capabilities. Every trade feels this, and instinctively acts upon this impression; nor will it be safe or prudent in the manufacturer to do otherwise till the prospect is widened, and he possesses the power of free exchange with every customer and every country he trades with, free from the fetters of restriction, and able to negotiate on equal terms with foreign competitors wherever he may meet them; whilst his home trade, created by the regular employment of capital and labour, is regulated and sustained by the sale of his surplus production in Foreign markets.

We are, Gentlemen,
Yours respectfully,
DAWSON AND HANCE.

Medical Association.—A Meeting of several of the medical practitioners of Sydney was held on Wednesday, the 15th May, at the Sydney Dispensary, for the purpose of forming a medical association for mutual co-operation on all subjects connected with the advancement of medical and surgical knowledge. On the motion of Dr. M'Farlane, seconded by A. Cuthill, Esq., it was proposed that the chair should be taken by W. Bland, Esq., M.C. The chair having been taken by Mr. Bland, he commenced by stating the objects of the meeting in an able address. The first resolution was then moved by Dr. M'Kellar, "That this meeting, impressed with the necessity of co-operation among the medical practitioners of New South Wales, do constitute themselves the Medico-Chirurgical Association of Australia."—The motion was seconded by W. Houston, Esq., and carried. In this stage of the proceedings of the meeting, an objection was made by P. Harnett, Esq., that sufficient notice had not been given to the members of the profession, who, he had no doubt, would have been desirous of attending the present meeting, and therefore moved, that this meeting be adjourned to the 15th June. The motion was seconded by A. A'Beckett, Esq., but negatived by the meeting. It having been considered by the majority of the members present, that so numerous a meeting of the medical practitioners having assembled, it would be a subject of regret to depart without forming the association and electing office-bearers; as by such means communication could be made with the absent members of the profession to join them. It was then proposed by Dr. Fullerton, and seconded by A. A'Beckett, Esq., "That William Bland, Esq., M.C., be requested to act as President, Drs. Nicholson and Wallace as Vice-Presidents, and George Bennett, Esq., to act as Secretary and Treasurer."—Carried. In order to meet the objections that had been made by Mr. Harnett, respecting the short notice given to the members of the medical profession, of the formation of this society, it was moved by George Bennett, Esq., and seconded by Dr. Tierney, "That a provisional committee be formed, consisting Dr. Fullerton, P. Harnett, Esq., A. A'Beckett, Esq., Dr. M'Kellar, R. Jones, Esq., Dr. Macfarlane, J. Mitchell, Esq., and C. Nathan, Esq., with power to add to their number, and with the assistance of the office-bearers, for the purpose of arranging such preliminary measures as may be necessary to bring before a general meeting of the members of the profession, to be held on Tuesday, the 2nd of June; the present committee to meet on Wednesday next, the 22nd of May."—This motion was carried. It was moved by R. Jones, Esq., and seconded by Dr. Grant, "That the Chair should be taken by P. Harnett, Esq." The chair having been taken by Mr. Harnett, it was proposed by Dr. M'Farlane, and seconded by A. Cuthill, Esq., "That the thanks of this meeting be given to William Bland, Esq., M.C., for his able conduct in the chair."—Carried unanimously.

Assessors' Cases.—Monday next has been fixed upon for the trial of Common Jury causes, but as one only of such causes has been set down for trial, the Assessors' cases remaining undisposed of will be gone through on that and the two following days.

Commissariat.—Treasury Clerk Uniacke is appointed a Deputy Assistant Commissary General.

Half-Yearly Inspection of the 80th Regiment.—On Wednesday last, the half-yearly inspection of this Regiment was commenced by His Excellency the Commander of the Forces, when the Regiment formed into line in the Outer Domain at eleven, a. m., and, after receiving the General in the usual manner, marched past him in open order in quick and slow time; they afterwards went through the field and light infantry movements. The review concluded with an advance in line at open order, after which they halted and presented arms, the band playing God save the Queen, and the drums the Point of War. The General then rode to the front and addressed Colonel Baker, expressing his approbation of the appearance and steadiness of the men under arms; he also commended their movements in the field, particularly their firing and marching. Yesterday His Excellency inspected the same regiment in heavy marching order, when the evolutions commonly performed on such occasions were gone through, after which the Barracks and internal arrangements of the corps were scrutinized. At the close of both days His Excellency expressed his approbation of the high state of discipline in which he found the regiment. He was also highly satisfied with the barrack arrangements and other details connected with the corps, and instructed Colonel Baker to convey his sentiments to the officers and men under his command. On both occasions the regiment had a very imposing appearance, there being not less than 900 men under arms. The above will probably be the last half-yearly inspection of this regiment in the colony, as it is understood they will proceed to India in July or August next.

Committals.—Yesterday William Holmes, late a drayman on the Queen's Wharf, was fully committed for robbing the Rev. Mr. Allwood's residence, at Kissing Point, of a quantity of silver plate found in his possession. The same prisoner was also committed for burglary, and shooting with intent to kill at Mr. Harrison, in his residence on the Surry Hills. Thomas Birch was likewise committed for forging and uttering a £5 note, and thereby defrauding Mrs. Davy, of Hunter-street.

Cattle Sale.—Mr. Chapman's sale of cattle, in the insolvent estate of Mr. Adair, at the Paterson, on Monday last, went off remarkably well. The prices realized were—working bullocks, from £2 2s. to £2 17s. 6d each; cows and calves, £1 7s. 6d. to £2 10s.; the remaining herd, after the cows and calves, 18s. each all round.

Superfine Cloths and Cassimeres.—We beg to draw the attention of tailors and the trade generally to Mr. Fawcett's unreserved sale of superfine cloths, cassimeres, doeskins, &c., to take place at his commercial sale rooms, George-street, this day, at eleven o'clock.—Communicated.

The Queen's Birthday.—The arrangements at Government House on the Queen's birthday will be precisely the same as last year. The levee will be held in the old house, and the ball in the new one. The arrangements respecting carriages will also be the same.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Markets have been exceedingly tranquil throughout the week, excepting tea, of which considerable sales have been made in Hysonskin, ex Trinidad, at £4 15s. per chest, and but a small portion of this importation remains undisposed of; the sales in other articles have been trifling, and call for no comment, but in prices there is no alteration; useful and consumable goods have evidently an upward tendency—soft goods especially.

JOHN JOHNSON, Broker.
Albion House, Miller's Point.

SYDNEY MARKETS.—Friday.

Wheat.—The extreme low price of wheat has quite discouraged the growers from bringing any to market, and prices are merely nominal. Some parcels in coasting vessels have been sold at from 2s. 6d. to 2s. 9d.

Flour.—This article is only in demand for immediate use; no speculation whatever going forward. The millers quote as under, viz.:—

Fine	11s...12s. per 100 lbs.
Second	9s...10s. ,,
Bran	6d. to 8d. per qr.
No. 1 biscuit	22s. per cwt.
No. 2 ditto	16s.

Bread.—The 2 lb. loaf of first quality is generally sold for 3d.; but there is some of a very inferior description sold at 2½d.

Maize.—There is a large supply and almost no demand; the highest price given for the best old maize has been only 1s. 4d. per bushel; the average price is about 1s. 1½d. per bushel—the minimum price about 10d. The retailers are charging from 1s. 6d. to 1s. 9d. per bushel.

Barley.—There are no sales of colonial barley to report; several fair samples have been offered, without success, at 1s. per bushel. English barley of the best quality will realise 3s. per bushel.

Oats—Are plentiful, at from 1s. 6d. to 1s. 9d. per bushel wholesale, and are retailing at from 2s. to 2s. 3d. per bushel.

Grass—Wholesale, is about 9d. per dozen; and from 10d. to 1s. per dozen retail.

Green Bedding is realising from 3s. 6d. to 4s. 3d. per load.

Hay is from 2s. 5d. to 3s. 6d. per cwt., and will probably advance if the supply is kept limited; at noon yesterday there were only about six loads for sale.

Straw.—There has been a pretty large advance in the price of straw, which is now at from 10s. to 15s. per single load, and from 20s. to 32s. per double load.

Fat Cattle are likely to advance; the prices given during the week have already advanced from 18s. to 21s., and from 24s. to 27s. 6d., and some few head, in very superior condition, have realized 34s. per head. One wholesale butcher, who has a salting establishment, will give 1d. per lb. for beef of first-rate quality.

Sheep.—In consequence of the impetus given by boiling and melting, the wholesale butchers have been giving 5s. per head for the best fat sheep. There is every likelihood of a rise, and therefore the flockmasters ought to be on their guard as to selling under the price quoted.

Fat Pigs remain as last reported—plentiful, and appear to be meeting with a good sale at from 2¼d. to 2½d. per lb. on the estimated weight. Store pigs are neither offered nor enquired for. Roasting pigs, by the litter, are from 2s. 9d. to 3s. 3d. each. The price obtained for single dressed pigs is about 4s. each.

Milch Cows.—There are a great number of very indifferent milking cattle at present on sale, the prices of which range from 55s. to 65s. per head.

Horses remain as last reported, nor is there any prospect of much being done in this description of stock with advantage to the colonists, for some time to come. The prices are as last reported.

Butchers' Meat.—The quality still appears of the very best description, and an advance is progressing—beef, ¾d. to 1d. per lb.; mutton, 1d. to 1½d. per lb.; pork, 2¼d. to 3d. per lb.; veal, 3½d. to 4d. per lb.; lamb, 5s. per carcass; suet, 2½d. to 3d. per lb. The retail prices are—mutton, 1½d. to 1¾d. per lb; beef, 1d to 1½d. per lb.; pork, 4d. to 4½d. per lb; veal, 4½d. to 5d. per lb.; lamb, 2s. 6d. per quarter; suet, 4d. per lb.; neats' tongues, 1s. to 1s. 2d. each.

Dairy Produce.—There is no change to report in regard to the prices of butter, cheese, bacon, pork, or lard. About 17 cwt. of butter has been sold to the dealers at from 6d. to 7d. per lb.

Poultry.—Three loads have paid dues, for which the dealers are giving from 1s. to 1s. 3d. per pair for fowls; they are retailing at from 2s. to 2s. 3d. per pair; ducks are from 2s. 9d. to 3s. 3d. per pair; geese from 3s. 6d. to 4s. each; turkeys from 4s. 6d. to 7s. each—young birds from 2s. to 3s. each; pigeons from 2s. to 2s. 6d. per pair; muscovy ducks from 4s. 6d. to 6s. per pair. Eggs, wholesale, are from 8d. to 10d. per dozen, and retail, from 9d. to 1s.

Vegetables.—Seventeen loads have paid dues. There is still but little demand. The prices remain unchanged:—Cabbages 1d. to 6d., pickling cabbages 4d. to 8d., each; turnips, carrots, and parsnips, 3d. per bundle; lettuces 2d. per head; radishes and young onions, 1d. per bunch; turnip radishes, 1½d. per bunch; melons 8d. to 3s. per dozen; love apples 6d. per dozen; cucumbers from 8d. to 2s. per dozen; dried onions 2d. per lb.; French beans 1s. 9d. to 2s. per peck; green peas 2s. 6d. per peck; chillies 4d. to 6d. per quart; rhubarb 4d per bundle; horse radish 4d. to 6d. per stick; celery 2d. to 6d. per stick; dried and green herbs 1d. per bundle; Rio pumpkins 4s. per dozen; common pumpkins from 2s. to 15s. per dozen, according to size; garlic 1s. per lb.; peas for seed, according to kind and quality, from 1s. 6d. to 3s. per pint.

Potatoes are so plentiful that 50s. is regarded as the average price, the maximum 60s., and the minimum as being 42s. Van Diemen's Land potatoes, although not superior in quality to those grown in New South Wales, are realising £5 5s. per ton wholesale, and are retailing at from 6s. to 7s. 6d. per cwt.

Fruit.—Twenty-eight loads of fruit have been received during the week; the wholesale prices are—peaches, 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. per basket; lemons, 2d. to 3d per dozen; oranges are on the advance, from 7d. to 1s. per dozen wholesale, and from 1s. to 1s. 9d. per dozen retail; baking pears, 1s. 6d. per dozen; eating pears, 1s. to 1s. 6d per dozen. The retail prices are—grapes, 4d. to 6d. per lb.; pomegranates, 6d. each; quinces, 8d. to 1s. per dozen; colonial apples, 1s. to 1s. 6d. per dozen; Van Diemen's Land apples, 1s. to 2s. per dozen; peaches, 6d. per dozen; figs, 4d. per dozen; loquats, 4d. per quart. Van Diemen's Land apples are from 14s. to 18s. per bushel; Bong Bong apples are retailing at from 1s. to 3s. per dozen; green bananas, 2s. to 2s. 3d. per dozen.

Timber.—Boards from 5s to 6s. per 100 feet. The prices charged at the wharfs are 7s. to 8s. per 100 feet. Good cedar, in log, from 9s. to 12s. per 100 feet, and from 2d. to 2½d. for inch boards; inferior inch boards may be had as low as 1d. per foot. Posts and rails are from 20s. to 25s. per 100; shingles from 5s. to 5s. 6d. per 1000; laths from 7s. to 8s. per 1000.

Coals and Firewood.—The prices of the former are, on the wharfs, wholesale, from 18s. to 22s. per ton of 28 bushels, and from 21s. to 24s. per ton of 32 bushels. For 22s. to 24s. the dealers are delivering them within the boundaries of the city to their customers. The prices per ton weight of 2240 lbs., are from 22s. to 26s., the latter being the price charged for delivery in Sydney. Firewood is from 1s. to 1s. 9d. per barrow load, from 3s. 6d. to 4s. per cart load, and from 12s. to 20s. per boat load.

Leather.—Sole, 6d. per lb.; kip, 1s per lb.; calf skins, 40s. per dozen; kangaroo skins, 26s. per dozen.

Sundries.—Feathers, from 9d. to 1s per lb.; rabbits, 2s. 6d. to 4s. per pair; candles, 3s. 3d. to 4s. per dozen lbs.; lime, 4d. to 4½d. per bushel on the wharfs; bricks, from 18s. to 23s. per 1000 at the kilns and on the wharfs; soap, 20s. to 24s. per cwt.; colonial tallow, £25 to £28 per ton; honey, 1s. 3d. to 1s. 8d. per lb.; sheepskins, 1s. 3d. each; hides, 1½d. per lb., or from 6s. 6d. to 7s. each; colonial salt, £5 per ton.

ENGLISH NEWS.

THE WOOL MARKETS.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 20.

BRADFORD.—The continued advance on wool makes the spinners' position far worse than for some time back, and they are very cautious in accepting orders, even at a shade higher price; for as soon as the shippers are in the market, there is no doubt it will tend further to improve the demand, and necessarily advance the price. During the week there has been an improved demand for all kinds of combing wools, and the staplers complain of the very extravagant prices demanded by the country dealers; also of the bareness of the supply in the farmers' hands, for, since last clip, the wools in most districts have been cleared off, except some who are holding for very high prices. This state of things inspires confidence, and the staplers here refuse to sell unless they can get farther advances, which have, in some cases, been realised. Noils and brokes are very ready sale, at advanced prices.

HALIFAX.—A good business was done in wools on last market day, and previous rates were well supported.

HUDDERSFIELD.—We have no change to notice in our wool market. Prices remain as last quoted, and the demand continues moderate.

LEEDS.—A brisk demand for English combing wool continues to exist, and prices are gradually improving. Clothing wools are more saleable at rather higher rates. In Foreign wools the transactions have been rather extensive this week, and prices have met with firm support.

ROCHDALE.—Our wool market is firm, and has an upward tendency. We continue to experience a good demand, and a fair business has been transacted.

WAKEFIELD.—In consequence of the advanced rates demanded by farmers, this market continues to be thinly supplied with combing fleece wools; so that although sales are by no means extensive, prices may be quoted at about 10s. per pack higher than last week. We have more inquiry for low blanket wools.

LIVERPOOL.—All descriptions of foreign wool have met a ready sale, this week, at improving rates. 650 East India are advertised for public sale on the 9th February next. Scotch wools have been in good demand, and prices generally have met with firm support. Imported this week, 739 foreign, 985 Scotch; imported previously this year, 663 Scotch; total, 739 foreign, 1,648 Scotch.

THE REVENUE.

(From the Standard, January 7.)

IT has lately been our pleasing duty to present to the public a rich array of proofs of the prosperous advance made by the empire within the last two years, the effect of a prudent and patriotic administration of the government,—peace conquered and confirmed—the British territories profitably augmented—manufactures and commerce restored—boundless fields opened to their enterprise—and the value of British public obligations enhanced 10 per cent. To-day we complete the gratifying work by announcing an improvement in the revenue wholly without example, under any circumstances approaching to similarity.

The readers of the Standard were prepared, by our brief and general, but accurate, announcement of last night, for a large increase in the public contributions of 1843, beyond those of the preceding year; in our present number we lay the figures in detail before them. In the tables inserted in our first page, they will see an increase, a large increase, in every branch of revenue which can by any construction be treated as an index to the state of the mass of the people, with reference to their enjoyments or to their active industry.

The year's increase on the Excise amounts to no less than £387,503, and the total increase of all sources of revenue, deducting decrease upon those heads of taxation which are proofs of distress, not of prosperity—such as the corn duties and the stamp duties, amounts, exclusive of the property-tax, to £1,063,974, more than a million sterling. Including the property-tax, the increase would be £5,742,078, and as respects the resources of the Exchequer, its ability to meet the demands of the public service, as respects, too, the general ability of the nation, this increase of nearly £6,000,000 sterling is, questionless, a bond fide increase. But this is not the light in which we wish to have the returns looked to at present. We would direct attention to them as evidence of the national progress, not as evidence of the national strength, of which, indeed, there was never any rational doubt. Let us, then, take the property-tax from both years, because it was collected during a part only of 1842, and we shall have a comparative view to which no exception can be taken, viz.:—

Increase on the year, exclusive of property tax	1,063,974

Thus, exclusive of the property tax, nay, despite of its reflex operation, which the opponents of the measure threatened to be so injurious to other sources of revenue—exclusive of the property tax, and in spite of all the mischief it was to do—the ordinary sources of revenue are more productive in 1843 than they were in 1842 by £1,000,000 sterling and upwards.

Even this, however, is an inadequate view of the national progress. On the face of the returns before us, there appears we must admit a decrease, though a trifling one, on the Customs of last year. How this decrease has arisen will at once appear by a comparison of the corresponding quarters of the two years, compared as follows:—

	April.	July.	October.	January.
1842...	£4,495,053	4,422,191	5,943,977	4,214,089
1843...	£4,219,537	4,557,206	5,529,508	4,766,968

From this statement it is seen that the great excess of revenue in 1842 arises upon the October quarter of that year, an excess altogether attributable to the prodigious mass of foreign corn imported or taken out of bond at the 8s. duty in the month of August and September, rated, if we mistake not, at three millions of quarters. Such revenue is an index of loss and not of gain, as for every shilling gained by the Exchequer the farmer must have lost at least three, and lost the money never to return to this country. Upon the same principle upon which, in order to arrive at a fair comparative view of the revenue of the two years, we have struck out the property-tax for both years, we ought to strike out the corn duties, which make up so large a part of last year's revenue, and have produced little or nothing in the present year. If we had the figures enabling us to do this, there is no reason to doubt that the actual increase of the ordinary fixed sources of revenue, instead of resting, happily high, as it does, above £1,000,000, would closely approach to £2,000,000. Such, at least, is apparently the just inference from the fact, that upon a comparison of the concluding quarters of the two years, in neither of which quarters did the corn duties sensibly operate, the last quarter presents an increase of more than £500,000. As to the other trifling deficiencies, they can be all easily explained, while they whose business it is to find fault will be somewhat at a loss to explain away one shilling of the noble increase of more than £1,000,000 sterling, wholly exclusive of the property tax.

FINANCIAL OPERATIONS OF THE WEEK.

(From the Atlas, January 27.)

On Monday, Bank Stock advanced to 191 to 193, and the one assigned was the statement that the present Ministry are inclined to view with favour the application of the Directors for a renewal of the Charter. Consols for money and the Account stood at 96⅞ to 97. Foreign securities suffered scarcely any alteration. Quotations were, nevertheless, for the most part firm, and business tolerably steady.

On Tuesday, Consols left off at 97¼. There was more business in Foreign Bonds than has occurred for some time past at improved prices. In railways the upward movement arose from a demand for bona fide investment, speculative operations being chiefly directed to those upon the payments made were lighter. The shares, however, of the established lines were taken pretty freely in pledge by bankers, without a very wide margin [illegible] the advances made, and this tended to encourage speculative operations beyond the former practice, when banks rejected them as securities.

On Wednesday, the late advance no doubt induced some of the large holders of this security to sell. Consols for money and account closed 97⅛, having been quoted 97¼ in the earlier hours of business.

On Thursday, the English funds were steady, but business very limited, although the government broker [illegible] £20,000 Consols at 97⅛. The closing price, however, was much the same as the day previous, being 97⅛.

The Share Market was, if anything, less buoyant, although, generally speaking, the leading lines maintained their prices, excepting Manchester and Leeds. It was expected that the Government Revenue Commissioners would have completed their investigation into the Custom House frauds, and have been prepared with their finished report, so as to lay it before the Parliament at the commencement of the session. Enough, however, was contained in the published report to call for a thorough revision of the system of Custom-house administration, and for an extensive reform and simplification of the subsisting vexatious and complicated table of imports.

On Friday, at the Bank of England, owing to the late will forgeries, it was found necessary to renew former precautions; and as a few of the brokers of third-rate standing, in their anxiety for business, have not been sufficiently particular in ascertaining that the parties for whom they were making transfers were the individuals they actually represented themselves to be, the notice issued many years since has been again circulated by the directors, and will now evidently be more strictly acted upon:—

"Bank of England, July 21, 1808.

"The Governor and directors of the Bank of England give this public notice, that as it has been determined by a court of law that every broker or other person is responsible for the identity of the party he vouches for, the Governor and directors will, upon every occasion where the identity is falsely attested, enforce such responsibility in due course of law."

At two o'clock the British securities held firmly in most cases, the only exception being Bank and India Stocks, which went slightly lower, on account of the sales made to realise profits on the late considerable advance. The first mentioned was done at 192⅞ to 192, and the latter at 276 to 275½. The government broker bought a parcel of Consols at a still higher price, viz., 97⅜, and the general bargains were at 97¼ to 97⅛. The Foreign Market was quieter. The Railway Shares were dealt in to a fair extent, and prices buoyant for the greater part of the lines.

6668 EDWARD MORIARTY.

PROTEST of the PASTORAL ASSOCIATION of New South Wales, against the projected Regulations of His Excellency Sir George Gipps said to have been forwarded for the consideration of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State, in a Despatch dated 3rd April last, by the ship General Hewitt.

The Committee of the Pastoral Association, although not bound to notice a document so apocryphal, put forth without the formalities of official routine, yet believing that document to be genuine, from its having remained so long uncontradicted, protest against the Regulations which it contains for the following reasons:—

(1.) Because the upset price of £1 an acre is evidently unreasonable for Land, three acres of which are admitted, even on the face of these projected Regulations, to be required for the feed of one sheep.

(2.) Because these Regulations give the occupant no right of pre-emption, but on the contrary, expose him to an unfair and ruinous competition.

(3.) Because these regulations do not give any fixity of tenure, or any tenure at all; the occupation of the Run not being under Lease, for a fixed term at a fixed rent, but under License which may be withdrawn, or the fee for which may be raised indefinitely at the will of the Executive.

(4.) Because the system now sought to be introduced resembles closely that of Leases renewable at stated periods on payment of fines, a system universally exploded, but here especially inconvenient and unjust, as the occupant can never know the terms on which he will be permitted to renew his License; the lowest will be £320, but how much more will entirely depend upon the competition of the Auction Room.

(5.) Because the Crown, by the 5th projected Regulation, expressly reserves its absolute right to these Lands, and by such reservation retains to itself the power of taxing the people without the consent of their representatives, to an unlimited extent.

(6.) Because the effect of these projected Regulations is, without giving the occupant any additional security against disturbance by the Crown, to render his tenure yet more uncertain, by putting it in the power of any third person to eject him, if he be not able at a short notice to pay a large sum of ready money.

(7.) Because the certainty of tenure is a far stronger inducement to make permanent improvements, than the prospect of compensation for them, it being perfectly notorious that their estimated value will never replace the outlay.

(8.) Because no compensation is offered for the risks incurred in proving the fitness of the run for the pasturage of stock, although it is well known that in making selections the best judges have been deceived, and forced to abandon them with a heavy loss of stock and capital.

(9.) Because the investment of large sums in the purchase of Land would tend to produce another commercial crisis; and because the exportation of Money from this Colony, where it is three times as valuable as in England, in exchange for Emigrants, whom it is equally expedient to the payer of poor-rates at home to send as for us to receive, and a large portion of whose passage-money ought consequently to be paid by the parishes, is an operation which must be injurious to the Colony.

(10.) Because the sum payable to the Government under the proposed Regulations, within the first five years, would amount to more than the whole (present saleable) value of stock depasturing outside the boundaries of the Colony, viz.:—

2000 Licenses at £10 a year, for five years	£100,000
2000 Half Sections of Land, 320 Acres, at 20s. (at least) per acre	640,000
Assessment 3,200 000 Sheep, at 1d. per annum 600,000 Cattle, at 3d. per annum, for five years	105,000
	£845,000

(11.) Because whatever may be thought of the expediency of obliging the occupant to purchase a homestead, there can be none in compelling him to purchase an additional 320 Acres at the end of eight years, since they will not be required as a Homestead, and are quite insignificant for pastoral purposes.

(12.) Because diseased Sheep can only be removed in the month of February, and therefore, if the Auction be not in that month, the loss of the Run implies the loss of the Stock

The Committee of the Pastoral Association, although fully alive to the impending ruin with which these projected Regulations are fraught, would yet entreat the Colonists of New South Wales not to be dismayed, but to persevere in their present efforts, in the full assurance that no amount of misgovernment has ever been able to bear down a British community if true to itself.

COLLINGWOOD ESTATE.

TO BE LET UPON LEASE FOR ANY TERM NOT EXCEEDING SEVEN YEARS.

ALL that splendid Estate, containing five hundred acres, within one mile of Liverpool, and distant from Sydney twenty-one miles, known by the name of COLLINGWOOD. The high road to Campbell-town and the Southern Interior passes through it, and it is bounded on the east by the fresh water of George's River, to which it has a frontage of about one mile. On it stands erected COLLINGWOOD HOUSE, containing seven rooms, with verandah, back and front, which faces an ornamental flower garden. In the rear is a detached kitchen, and private store, laundry, a bake-house, containing two ovens, formerly used by the Government contractor, stable and coach-house store-house, slaughter-house and stock yards.

An excellent kitchen garden and orchard, containing an abundant supply of fruit trees of every description in full bearing. The whole Estate is enclosed, and there are about two hundred acres of rich alluvial land, cleared and stumped, fit for the plough, and divided into four or five paddocks, a great portion of which has been under culture, and it has what very few farms can boast of so convenient to the capital, that is, an inexhaustible supply of fine fresh water, not only from the main river, but from a chain of ponds meandering through the centre. The mails and public coaches pass before the door of course daily. To a contractor for public supplies this Estate would be found unequalled, as for a series of years it has been used by one. For particulars apply to C. H. Chambers, Esq., Solicitor, Sydney; or on the Estate, which may be viewed daily, and instant possession given to a tenant. 6659

FARM OF ABBOTSBURY.

THE above well-known Farm, situated about twelve miles from Parramatta, will be either sold or let. Immediate entrance can be given. Apply to R. A. A. Morehead, Esq., O'Connell-street. 6672

A SURE VOTE FOR THE COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

20 Acres of "KENT'S GRANT," KISSING POINT, on the never failing "SHRIMPTON'S CREEK," Fresh Water.

HUNTER'S HILL.

MR. WELLS will peremptorily knock down to the highest bidder, at public auction, on

MONDAY, 20TH MAY,
(Immediately following the Whaling Wharf Property, North Shore,)
AT THE ROYAL HOTEL,

All that piece or parcel of Land, as will be more particularly described on a plan at the time of sale, viz: 20 acres of land, more or less, 5 acres of which are completed or fenced in, stumped, and ready for either orchard planting, nursery, or gardening occupation.

The successful exertions of innumerable small proprietors contiguous to this property, with a less proportion of land to do it upon, is proof enough of the fact that this 20 acre estate must be doubly profitable to the person who may be lucky enough to buy it, especially at the small price he may buy it at.

Terms at sale—very liberal. 6692

TO A BENEVOLENT PUBLIC.

How far a candle throws its little beams:
So shines a good deed in a naughty world.
Shakspere on Benevolence.

PRINTED COPIES of "An Appeal to the Sympathies and Benevolence of the Australasian Public, for Relief for Mr. ANDREW BENT (late Newspaper Proprietor, of Van Diemen's Land) AND HIS LARGE FAMILY, now in a STATE OF UTTER DESTITUTION," having been respectfully submitted to Sir GEORGE and LADY GIPPS, for their kind perusal and compassionate consideration, Mr. BENT has much pleasure to acquaint his friends and a benevolent public, that his Excellency and Ladyship, as well as numerous other illustrious personages, have, by their generous bounties, been graciously pleased to patronize his humble appeal, as printed in his pamphlet,—the work of his own hands—the sole production of industry, and undertaken in consequence of the manifold sufferings his wife and six children have long and silently been labouring under.

With their usual deep interest in behalf of the oppressed, and their speedy relief to the distressed, His Excellency Sir GEORGE and LADY GIPPS and several other persons of the highest rank in the colony, have thus added an additional lustre to their well-known philantropy and benevolence. And, though His Excellency the Governor does not wish his name, nor perhaps other persons high in office or society their names, to be used for the purpose of attraction, Mr. Bent presumes he may nevertheless be here permitted to return his most grateful and sincere thanks for their very generous acts of kindness, without giving any great offence, he should imagine.

With this expression of his heart-felt gratitude, in returning his most sincere thanks to those distinguished ladies and gentlemen who have already kindly responded to his call for aid, in having been pleased generously to afford him and his family something like present relief, Mr. Bent may perhaps be permitted to mention the names of those who have thus kindly followed the example of their benevolent Governor and His Excellency's amiable consort; and in taking leave most respectfully to give publicity thereto, he may also be allowed to acknowledge that their respective bounties, with one or two exceptions, are from one to five pounds each, as follow:—

Sir James Dowling, Knight, the Honorable the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.
His Excellency Sir Maurice C. O'Connell, K.C.B., Commander of the Forces.
Sir Thomas Livingstone Mitchell, Knight, Surveyor-General.
The Honorable the Colonial Secretary, Edward Deas Thomson, Esq., M.C.
The Honorable William Westbrooke Burton, Esq., Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court.
The Honorable Alfred Stephen, Esq., Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court, and Lady.
The Reverend William Cowper, D.D., Senior Chaplain of the Colony.
His Grace Archbishop Polding.
Dr. William Bland, M.D., and M.C.
Dr. John Dunmore Lang, D.D., and M.C.
The Right Worshipful the Mayor of Sydney, James R. Wilshire, Esq.
George Allen, Esq., J.P., and Alderman.
Henry Macdermott, Esq., J.P., and Alderman.
Colonel Narb. Baker, 80th Regiment.
The Reverend Ralph Mansfield
The Rev. John M'Encroe.
William Montague Manning, Esq., Chairman of the Quarter Sessions.
W. J. Row, Esq., Government Printer.
John Macdonald, Esq., Ordnance Storekeeper's Department.
Thomas Henry Braim, Esq., Head Master of the Sydney College.
John Terry Hughes, Esq., Merchant.
Dr. Colyer, J.P.
William Alexander Purefoy, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.
Lancelot Iredale, Esq., Merchant.
John Dillon, Esq., Attorney.

To the honour of these distant British Colonies, a similar spirit in their inhabitants has always been conspicuously shown therein (Van Dieman's Land not a whit behind New South Wales, as in virtue's path they go hand-in-hand,) and greatly admired in other Countries. They all unite in following the glorious example of their ancestors and countrymen at home. Indeed, it may be truly said, that the sons of Australia and Tasmania, as well as the English, Irish, and Scotch, who are as famous for good nature as for valour, are constantly employed in seeking proper objects on whom to exercise those glorious virtues—compassion and generosity. This is the British nation's pride—this is the pride of this, "our bright land, the infant empire of Australia." The distressed of every grade and sect all share in the frequent donations of her sons and daughters. They give, because they feel their distresses. Their bounty is founded on the noblest of the human affections: "it flows from a heart melting to goodness, from the most refined humanity."

It is not, therefore, to be wondered at, that an appeal is now being made, as is fully explained in his pamphlet, to the sympathies and benevolence of the Australasian public, on behalf of Mr. ANDREW BENT, who is at present residing in Sydney, with a wife and six children (separated from him in an isolated part of the interior, 350 miles distant from the metropolis, entirely dependent upon him for support, and without any means of obtaining for them or himself even the common necessaries of life!

Mr. BENT's present misfortunes in New South Wales, and his claims to the public sympathy and support, in now soliciting and asking the aid of the public, are briefly but pathetically described in his humble appeal, as printed in his pamphlet, just issued from the Press, after having been "set up" by himself, (with the kind assistance of Mr. Alcock, in the use of his printing materials), and under great mental anxiety. Under the auspices of Hope, and the charitable influence of, and the unshaken confidence be places in a Benevolent Public, he is induced to hope they will be the touchstone of CHARITY. For, it would be a deplorable proof of the selfish condition of the mind, to which the population of these colonies are reduced, if a person like Mr. Bent, whose name has been so long familiar to the people therein, were to appeal to the public here, without his Appeal awakening some feelings of sympathy and benevolence in every generous mind, particularly in those of the old colonists. And it has been remarked, that, "the feelings of this enlightened community, can never be so cold as to freeze their hearts against the striking appeal of such an old and respectable colonist as Mr. Bent, in behalf of his wife and children, an appeal, the offspring of Hope, the only expiring grasp of a fond husband, a feeling father, has within his reach, the only means left to provide for his destitute family, resident in a Christian land, but long wanting the necessaries of life, an appeal which is now made as his last resource,—a step that cannot but forcibly penetrate and move the hearts of the kind and benevolent in these colonies, and especially all those who are distinguished for their acts of benevolence, and showing virtuous dispositions in doing good towards alleviating the wants and miseries of their fellow-creatures in the hour of distress, by a reverse of Fortune or other calamity.

Previously to the publication of Mr. Bent's appeal, his present misfortunes were made known, in detail, to Sir GEORGE GIPPS—now a period of 18 months ago,—and then handed to His Excellency by His Honor Mr. Justice STEPHEN. At this time, Mr. Bent was favoured with letters from His Excellency and His Honor, expressing their regret that it was not then in the power of the Government to afford him employment in the public service of Government, and their "sincerest sympathy in his extraordinary sufferings." Indeed, the Honorable and humane Judge expressed himself thus upon that occasion: "I have read your letter, and I truly commiserate your present misfortunes; which I do really believe, are not fairly attributable to any act or omission of your own!"

These are some of the grounds on which Mr. Bent asks for help; but as those grounds are somewhat fully gone into in his pamphlet, a repetition of them here would be superfluous. It will perhaps be sufficient for him now to state, that Subscription Lists are open and lying at the following places in the City of Sydney, as the agents of all persons who may be generously pleased to make Mr. Bent the Steward of the bounties of their benevolence, for the relief of his wife and children, who are at present acutely feeling the pinching hand of poverty:—

At the Bank of New South Wales, opposite the Barrack Gate, George-street.
At the office of Mr. Duncan, editor of the Weekly Register, near St. James's Church; And at the offices and Warehouses of the undermentioned printers, bookbinders, and stationers, viz.:—
Mr. D. L. Welch, Geo,ge-street,
Mr. James Tegg, George-street,
Mr. William Baker, King-street,
Mr. M'Gee, Pitt-street,
Mr. T. Britten, Pitt-street,
Mr. Thomas Jones, George-street, South.

ALSO,

At Mr. Aldis's, Cigar Depôt, George-street,
By Mr. Watson, at the Custom House, and
By Captain Munro, at his Office, near the Queen's Wharf;—
where copies of Mr. Bent's pamphlet may be had or seen by all persons desirous to obtain or peruse the same.

Those persons who shall be furnished with copies will shortly afterwards be respectfully waited on for their respective answers by some authorised person, and when, it is hoped, they shall have given his humble appeal their compassionate consideration; and in affording him their kind assistance, they will also be pleased to return Mr. Bent's pamphlets, as "they may be useful for more extended circulation."

It may not be improper for him here to state, that it has been suggested that the object Mr. Bent has in view may be best effected, if some of his friends, or those who are disposed kindly to regard his appeal, were to act as agents, especially in the various townships in the interior, for the purpose of receiving any subscriptions that may be contributed. Uniting with such well-wishers in their friendly suggestions, and the assurance of all those who have kindly proffered him their kind assistance in the carrying out of such a charitable object, Mr. Bent feels confident he will not be disappointed in their exertions,—a step which it will be clearly seen, cannot but add additionally and considerably to the amount of relief which may be bestowed on his family, in the hour of need; and while their wants, their ready hands and agency will supply, Mr. Bent doubts not but that many charitable persons, and especially those who have any knowledge of him or his family, will be cheerfully stimulated to make their corner stone sweet charity. For, we are told to "Cherish the buds of pity, and they will bloom with benevolence."

In conclusion, he has only now to state, that, from the knowledge which the undermentioned Ladies and Gentlemen have of himself and family, and the good wishes, mingled with the sincerest sympathy, that have been expressed by those who have already been made acquainted with their wants,—Mr. Bent has every reason to hope and believe that many of the persons herein alluded to,—at present residing in New South Wales, but who were formerly residents in Van Diemen's Land,—will feel real pleasure in rendering his family every assistance in their power; which he now urgently but respectfully solicits, by sincerely hoping they will be pleased to receive contributions, and thereby facilitate in a very powerful manner, his present very desirable object. While their charitable exertions and influence shall ever have the fervent prayers of himself and numerous family, they will surely ensure the approval of their own hearts, and their reward hereafter.

"Particularly does Mr. Bent venture to appeal," as he states in his pamphlet, "to those whom he claims as brethren by a 'mystic tie,' which cannot be dissevered. These brethren, he doubts not, will be consistent to their leading principle, and assist to their utmost a distressed Brother, who humbly but earnestly invites THEIR AID."

They, and all other benevolent persons in Australia, who ever ready to help the distressed in the hour of trial, have now an example in their Governor, and the very distinguished personages herein-before named, in relieving a father's miseries—a mother's wants—and their children's cries.

The following is a list of the names of the ladies and gentlemen as above alluded to:—

HOUSES AND LAND AT SURRY HILLS.

By order of the Administrator in the Estate and Effects of the late Mr. John Marshall, Builder, Surry Hills, and with the consent of the Mortgagee.

A capital Messuage, and Premises adjoining thereto, situate in Bourke-street, Surry Hills.

MR. STUBBS is instructed to advertise, and sell by public auction,

ON SATURDAY WEEK, 25TH MAY, 1844,

At the Mart, King-street, at Twelve o'clock precisely,

All that freehold plot of Ground or parcel of Land, (as is more particularly described in the deed,) and situate in adjoining Mr. Clarke's ground, Surry Hills,

BOURKE-STREET,

TOGETHER WITH

the several Dwelling-houses and Premises in that street,

AS WELL AS BOTANY-STREET;

THAT IS TO SAY—

LOT No. 1—A dwelling-house of eight rooms, premises and land, having fifty-five feet frontage, more or less, to Bourke-street, containing four rooms on each floor; entrance hall, stair-case, &c., &c. The house has the rooms fitted with grates; a very well arranged paved yard; a court separates the house entirely from any kitchen annoyances; next to which there is a capacious coach house, with loft above; with various and many extremely necessary conveniences about and upon the premises.

No. 2.

LOT No. 2—Contains a frontage of twenty-seven feet, more or less, to Botany-street, and has erected thereon TWO WELL-BUILT STONE COTTAGES, or tenements, with very good rooms indeed, each some thirteen feet square, and moreover valuable for the capacious yards belonging to them.

No. 3.

LOT No. 3—also faces Botany-street, with a frontage about twenty-seven feet, and contains two brick-nogged and weather boarded dwelling-houses, in every respect equally valuable in regard to its impervious character of building, with the additional and expensive erection adjoining, of a most spacious six-stall stable, with floored granary above.

⁂ As a whole, and as a property, or taken as a single purchase, nothing can be more prudent or safe than to buy the whole of this estate in one lot. Should, however, the locking up of money afford greater pleasure than increasing the value of it, the capitalist can part with a little, and buy one of the lots instead. Either is a good speculation; for the man who buys to-day at Surry Hills is sure to receive his rent to-morrow.

Terms at sale. 6615

IMPORTANT SALE

OF

CITY PROPERTY.

IN THE INSOLVENT ESTATE OF PROSPER DE MESTRE.

BY ORDER OF THE TRUSTEES.

MR. SAMUEL LYONS has received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Mart, George-street and Charlotte-place, on

MONDAY, THE 10TH JUNE ENSUING,

THE FOLLOWING HIGHLY

VALUABLE ALLOTMENTS OF CITY PROPERTY,

Which in every respect offer the best opportunity for the investment of capital that has ever appeared in the market—consequently require no eulogium to enhance their value.

The following will be the order of sale:—

FIRST.—THE GEORGE-STREET PROPERTY.

Opposite the Military Barracks.

Lot 1.—No. 485, House, Shop, and Premises, occupied by Mr. James Tegg, bookseller, at an annual rent of £210, payable quarterly; tenant at will.

Lot 2.—No 486, House, Shop, and Premises, occupied by Mr. Francis Ellard, music seller, at an annual rent of £180, payable quarterly; tenant at will.

Lot 3.—No. 487, House, Shop, and Premises, occupied by Mrs. Dick, jeweller, at an annual rent of £180, payable quarterly; tenant at will.

Lot 4.—No. 488, House, Shop, and Premises, occupied by the General Insurance Company, at an annual rent of £185, payable quarterly; lease for fourteen years from 1st October, 1839.

Lot 5.—No. 489, House, Shop, and Premises, occupied by Mr. John Blackman, auctioneer, at an annual rent of £273, payable monthly; there is an agreement for a lease at the tenant's option.

Lot 6.—No. 490, The Sydney Bank and the City Hotel, Mr. Alderman Flood, tenant, at an annual rent of £275, payable quarterly; leased for fourteen years from 1st January, 1840.

Lot 7.—Stores, Yard, &c., let to Messrs. Lyall, Scott, and Co., merchants, at the annual rent of £175, payable quarterly; let for one year, from 1st January, 1844.

Total annual rental of the above premises, £1478.

SECOND.—THE LIVERPOOL-STREET PROPERTY.

The Dwelling House and Premises at present occupied by Mr. De Mestre, near the corner of Liverpool and Elizabeth streets.

For particulars of this property see circulars and plan.

THIRD.—THE ALLOTMENTS OF LAND IN LIVERPOOL AND ELIZABETH STREETS.

Lot 1.—Situate at the corner of the above streets, having a frontage of nineteen feet to Liverpool-street, and fifty-six feet to Elizabeth-street

Lot 2 has a frontage of eighteen feet six inches to Liverpool-street, by a depth of about fifty-six feet to a reserved passage leading to a carriage way from Elizabeth-street.

Lots 3, 4, 5, and 6, have each a frontage of twenty-two feet six inches to Elizabeth-street, with a depth varying from thirty-six to forty-three feet to the said reserved passage.

FOURTH.—TWO VERANDAH COTTAGES IN ELIZABETH-STREET.

Lot. 1, No. 75.—Cottage and Premises, rented by Mr. L Grant, plumber, &c., at £39 per annum, payable weekly.

Lot 2, No. 73.—Cottage and Premises, rented by Mr. P. Crane, smith, &c., at £32 10s. per annum, payable weekly.

FIFTH.—THREE HOUSES IN CASTLE REAGH-STREET.

Lot 3. No. 68. Dwelling-house, containing ten rooms, formerly an Inn, being the fifth house south from the corner of Liverpool-street

Lot 4. No. 66. Ditto and Premises, rented by Mrs. Jordan, adjoining the above

Lot 5. No. 64. Ditto, rented by Miss Johnson, adjoining the above.

These premises have lately undergone a thorough repair.

MR. LYONS cannot refrain from remarking that he feels highly honoured by having the sale of the above valuable property, situated, as some of it is, in the principal part of the City of Sydney; and he is satisfied that competent judges will delay employing their capital until the above day of sale, as such an opportunity to become possessed of profitable investments is not likely to occur again.

Circulars, with plans and particulars, may be obtained of Mr. Goodall, Surveyor, King-street East; Mr. Gray, Accountant, No. 397, Pitt-street North; and at the Auction Mart.

Terms at Sale.

G. R. GRIFFITHS,
CLARK IRVING,
JAMES HOLT,

5597 Trustees.

PARRAMATTA.

TO CHEMISTS, DRUGGISTS, &c.

MR. S. PHILLIPS will sell by auction, on the premises of Messrs. Gwynne and Foulis, Church-street, Parramatta, on

MONDAY, 20TH MAY,

The whole of the stock-in-trade of the above-named gentlemen, consisting of a very excellent assortment of DRUGS, &c., in original packages; gold labelled bottles, jars, large show glasses, show carboys, utensils, perfumery, fixtures, &c.

This sale will be well worthy the attention of the profession, as the principal part of the drugs, &c., have but lately arrived from one of the first London houses; and they will be sold without the least reserve, as it is to close a partnership account.

AFTER WHICH,

A quantity of household furniture.

Terms, cash.

The sale will commence at twelve o'clock precisely. 6517

MAITLAND.

UNRESERVED SALE OF CATTLE AND HORSES.
